

For more than 25 years Kevin "B.F." Burt has been electrifying audiences throughout the Midwest dispelling the myth that true blues has no roots in Iowa. His soul-inspired presentation is unique which consistently get him compared to a range of artists like Bill Withers and Aaron Neville, with the ability to build an audience rapport that has been compared to B.B. King.

Kevin is a self-taught musician (vocals, harmonica, and guitar) whose smooth, warm vocal presentation sets a mood of relaxed exhilaration, with a welcome mixture of serious music and infectious humor audiences of all ages seem to enjoy. His voice and presence are powerful. His unique delivery ranges from the sweetest, fullest, juiciest come-on to the most playful growl. Though he performs between 325 and 400 shows a year, he holds nothing back night after night and audiences leave knowing that.

Kevin has had some stage acting experience in his short career. His role as "Papa Gee" in an off Broadway play called "Klub Ka, the Blues Legend" had a two week run at LaMama's Experimental Theater in New York City was sold out each night. It ran originally in Iowa City, and then in Washington D.C.. Burt also arranged all of the blues music for this play.

Burt has also had roles in several other plays at the University of Iowa. Playing "Old Timer" in "Waking Niccodemus". Also playing the role of "Whining Boy" in the acclaimed play by August Wilson, "The Piano Lesson".

Burt also composed the musical soundtrack landed a lead role in a short silent film called "The Guru's Game". Burt also landed a part as himself performing in the independent film "Twelve-thirty".

Kevin Burt has won many awards and played many festivals both solo and with his band, the Instigators. His awards include Best Entertainer in Iowa City (three times) Best Band in Iowa City (three times) Iowa Blues Challenge Champions, Named as one of the top 25 unsigned blues bands in the world by the International Blues Challenge Competition.
