"This Is Where I Live"

"A Memphis legend is back."

The New York Times

"Bell's voice wears the years gracefully.."

UNCUT

William Bell's first LP for [Stax] since 1973 is a mature triumph... William Bell has forgotten nothing, it seems, least of all how to make wonderful, eternal soul music

MOJO

"This is soul music with personality and real instruments; best of all, it's unflinchingly honest."

The Boston Globe

Bio

The man who co-wrote one of the most covered songs in blues/rock music history is also an original "soul man," and he's back! William Bell, who wrote "Born Under a Bad Sign" with Booker T. Jones, a tune first recorded by Albert King and made legend by Eric Clapton and Cream, has returned to Stax Records and is ready to retake the limelight.
