

CARSIE BLANTON

Carsie Blanton bursts with ideas and opinions.... What she is talking about is almost always earthy if not downright down and dirty ... Buck Up is shaping up to be one of my favorite albums of the year."

"The unfashionably chirpy, unabashedly horny Blanton has been making albums since 2005. This one ... is easily the best- she's never been so catchy or sexy, and along with unabashed politics catchy and sexy are her flash points."- Robert Christgau, VICE

"...she tackles gender expectations, genre norms, societal expectations and sex through songs that are as smart and funny as they are well-constructed." – Rolling Stone

"her lyrics are sexy, witty and sharp" – Chicago Tribune

"Buck Up harks back to an era when entertainment and art weren't mutually exclusive. It's one of the finest records I've heard this year." – Nashville Scene

New Orleans' genre-stretching mischief-maker, Carsie Blanton released Buck Up on February 15, 2019 with a west coast tour supporting the Wood Brothers. Carsie writes songs fraught with humor and poignancy inspired by musicians as diversly rich as Ray Charles and Joni Mitchell; The Beatles and Erykah Badu; Nick Lowe, Tom Waits, Dolly Parton and Billie Holiday. With healthy doses of moxie and spice, Blanton revs up a spirited night.

In addition to her music, Carsie has gained popularity for her blog (which tackles questions of love and sexuality) her music videos (which celebrate female empowerment, dance, and the city of New Orleans) and her card game, The F'ing Truth which has been praised by sex columnist Dan Savage.

Carsie has toured throughout North America, the UK and Europe, as a headliner and as support for Paul Simon, The Wood Brothers, Josh Ritter, Madeleine Peyroux, Gregory Alan Isakov, Anais Mitchell and more.
